NMAMA Internship Program

About - General Information

New Mexico Academy for the Media Arts (NMAMA) has a provision within its charter that requires students to complete a 60-hour internship prior to graduation. This mission specific goal was included to ensure that students are gaining real-world experience in the application of media and career readiness skills acquired through participation in NMAMA's career and technical education programming. Please scroll to the bottom of this page to review the language included in the NMAMA performance framework that outlines the school's student internship participation requirements. In addition to student internships being a major component of the NMAMA charter contract, a 60-hour internship is also a local (NMAMA-specific) requirement for graduation. Students who complete a 60-hour paid or unpaid internship receive .50 elective credit hours that are applied toward the state of New Mexico's graduation requirements.
